They were delighted with North Alberta in general and with Edmonton in particular. They hope to visit the ranching district of Southern Alberta on their return from the coast.

THE indignation meeting called for Friday night to express public sentiment in regard to the action of the council on the market site question, like its predecessors, proved a fiasco. As the council will have to have another meeting to conclude the preliminaries of the deal and instruct the solicitor to prepare the by-law which will have to be advertised for three weeks before being voted upon by the ratepayers, after which it will have to be again taken up before the council for final passing, the public will have ample time and opportunity to express their disapprobation in a much more effective manner than by an unorganized public meeting.

MAJOR PERRY and all the Mounted police with the exception of three constables, are remaining in England on leave. The remainder of the jubilee contingent sailed on the Scotsman on the 5th.

THE body of the man found at Henrietta last week has been pretty well identified as being that of Robt. Scholey, as suspected. James Carse, who has been working on the river for some years, and who was probably the last person to see him alive, recognizes the clothing described by the police who found the body as similar to that worn by Scholey when last seen by him.—Saskatchewan Herald.

FROM LAKE ATHABASCA.

Colin Fraser and party arrived from Chipewyan on Friday, having made what he asserts was the shortest trip on record, 21 days in all to Edmonton or 19 days actual travelling, although the water in the Athabasca was unusually high with much drift wood which makes travelling by boat up stream all the more difficult. He left Chipewyan on the evening of June 18th, and made nearly as good time to Fort McMurray as the Hudson's Bay steamer, taking only five days.

THE past winter was severe on the Indians in the region around Athabasca lake. The weather was cold, the snow deep, there were no rabbits or caribou, marten were scarce and in the spring the snow went off so early that the ordinary spring hunt could not be made.

THE snow was gone in April, and the river did not break until the 8th of May, so that the Indians could not go to their hunting grounds either with dog sleighs or by boats. Some Indians starved to death during the winter.

FURTHER north at Great Slave lake there was no starvation as caribou were plentiful. Neither was there such hardship further south at Fort McMurray. The fur trade was not as good as last year. Mr. Fraser brings 35 packs. There was no serious sickness during the winter. Three wood buffaloes were killed in the region Northwest of Chipewyan.

THE steamer Athabasca was met on her second trip to Grand Rapids.

THE policeman was stationed at Fort Smith was at McMurray. The Indians of Athabasca are satisfied to have the police amongst them to prevent or punish for the putting out of poison, or the setting out of fire; but they object strongly to enforcement of the game laws passed some years ago at Ottawa. If the attempt is made to enforce these laws regarding waterfowl and small game there will be trouble. As to the wood buffalo the Indians do not object to them being protected provided white men are not allowed to hunt them. If white men are not absolutely prohibited the Indians will not submit to being stopped.

CROW'S NEST RAILWAY.

Work will be commenced on the Crow's Nest Pass railway within a few days. One hundred miles from Lethbridge west will be completed this season. This will reach nearly to the summit of the pass and rock work will be continued through the mountains all winter. It is expected that the railway will be completed to Nelson before the end of the next season. Construction will be under direct control of the C. P. R., M. J. Hancy, being superintendent. Contracts will be let in short sections so as to permit of tracklaying being commenced as soon as possible. Work will be commenced westward from Lethbridge and both west and east from MacLeod. In order that this may be done to advantage it will be necessary to extend the C. & E line across the Old Man's river to the line of the Crow's Nest road at MacLeod. As the first ten miles out from Lethbridge is very heavy work, the line having to be carried down into and out of the valley of the Belly river which is there 300 feet deep, with a grade not greater than one per cent, or 52 feet to the mile. This descent is made in order to secure an advantageous crossing of the St. Mary's river at its mouth, about the site of old Fort Whoo-Up. By starting from MacLeod at once, where the work is of the ordinary prairie nature, instead of delaying until the heavy work at Lethbridge is completed a great deal of time will be gained. The route from MacLeod west will probably be on the upland south of the Old Man's river, crossing Pincher Creek near its junction with the Old Man's, passing about three and a half miles north of Pincher Creek village, crossing the South Fork of the Old Man's a short distance below Godsal's ranch, and reaching the middle fork which issues from the pass a short distance above the falls. Thence following the Middle Fork to the summit. This route if adopted will leave unused a considerable portion of the grading done in the fall of '92, the proposed line then following the valley of the Old Man's from the mouth of Pincher Creek to the Forks, and thence following the Middle Fork.

The active construction of this road will give work to every one seeking work of that kind in Alberta this season and will thus furnish for two seasons at least that alone which the country lacks to make it thoroughly advantageous to new settlers, namely, employment at fair wages, which will help many to tide over the first two seasons of their settlement.

The immediate result to us of the construction of the road will be the development of the East Kootenay mining region and the addition of that region to the market for Alberta products; besides there is no doubt that the increase of transportation facilities throughout Kootenay, and especially the cheapening of coke for smelting purposes by bringing the Crow's Nest best coal fields within easy reach of the whole mineralized region will greatly increase mining development throughout Kootenay and still further increase our markets.

The question of rates into Kootenay has not been dealt with as thoroughly as was desirable or perhaps as might have been expected, all things considered, but at any rate an important principle has been established, namely that when the people pay they have a right to a say as to rates of transportation. The value of the concessions secured will depend on the stand taken by the government in enforcing them. Unfortunately they are not of a nature to enforce themselves. On the other hand if enforced in an enlightened and determined spirit they can be made of great value to the public. A keen criticism of the administration of the terms of the bargain will probably be necessary in order that its full benefits may be derived. This is a matter that is largely in the hands of the people themselves, so that they may expect to benefit or not as they look after their own interests. In the meantime the benefit to Alberta is direct, absolute, immediate and timely, and as such is appreciated by the people as a whole.

DIVERGENT TARIFFS.

The Canadian and United States legislative bodies have each lately completed a revision of their respective tariffs. The Dingley bill as first presented to congress was a distinct advance in protective duties. As finally passed in the senate it is simply a sky scraper. The McKinley tariff was formerly regarded as almost the reduction of absurdity of protection; but it was a very moderate measure as compared with the modification of the Dingley bill now adopted. The cause for this extreme advance is difficult to find. It cannot be much of a revenue producer, for much of it is fixed upon prohibitory rates. It is not pretended that the extreme rise in duties is in response to the expressed wishes of the people. The late presidential election was run upon financial issues, and the part played by the tariff was quite secondary. The general expectation was that the action of congress towards changes in the tariff would be characterized with a moderation which would give it a chance for a long life. In the introduction of the bill in the senate, this motive was avowed by Senator Aldrich; but that body ignored any consideration of the kind, and made it frankly an embodiment of the most extreme type of protection. Whether its course will run through as short a period as marked the life of the McKinley tariff remains to be seen; but for the present the commercial barbed fence around the neighboring republic is higher than it ever was before.

While this has been going on, our Canadian parliament has been dealing with its tariff. Its method of procedure was notably different from that of the United States body. The schedule of duties was brought down at a certain hour at Ottawa and immediately went into effect throughout Canada. Those at Washington came into effect only upon passing both houses and receiving the president's signature. In the interval, opportunity was given for all kinds of speculative movements based upon the possible outcome of the measure; and in the past it has been only too clear that temptations to corrupt action on the part of legislators has grown out of the suspense. In the nature of the changes made the action taken by the two legislative bodies has been in opposite directions. Canada, under the present government, is avowedly moving in the direction of reduced duties. To many people the moderation of the reductions is a matter of surprise and disappointment; but not to those who had studied our economic conditions. Those political orators and organs whose promises and prophecies held out the certainty of slashing reductions of duties when their party came into power, have now the embarrassing duty of explaining and apologizing for the many reductions that were not made, and making the most of those that were. If there is any fault to be found, it is with the rash promises made before hand; there certainly can be none for the prudent course adopted in making all changes with a due regard to the present business industries of the country.

The unmistakable tendency of the United States tariff is hostile, or at best indifferent to intercourse with Canada. This was emphasized by the attempt made by our Canadian statesmen to induce our neighbors to be neighborly. The attempt was repulsed; and the Canadian parliament showed a very natural disposition to retaliate. This found expression in the duties upon coal, and a few other products, but fell short of assuming a defiantly aggressive attitude. But its chief and most satisfactory expression was made in the preferential terms of the tariff for nations, which admit our products free or at low rates. Great Britain sees in this something more than a mere trade arrangement, and welcomes it as a drawing closer of the bonds of imperial citizenship.—Free Press.

THE YUKON.

A letter received in Winnipeg from one of the party of Manitobans en route to the Yukon contains the following account of the hardships of travel through that country. The letter is dated Lake Linderman, Alaska, June 20th, and reads in part as follows:

"We reached this place yesterday, a little disfigured, but still in the ring, having climbed the Chilcoot Pass from Dyea. The following distances will keep you on the trail as we move along: From Dyea to head of canoe navigation, six miles; to mouth of the canyon, nine miles; to Sheep Camp, 15 miles; summit of pass, 18 miles; to Lake Linderman, where we now are, 12 miles. The first six miles travelled were along a river, with the road running from one bank to the other and a very hard path to get along; sand and boulders, with from six inches to two feet of water, with a very swift current. The balance of the distance to the canyon is over boulders with fair footing. This is the end of the wagon road, and you then take to the woods and begin the mountain climb, going up and up until the river looks a silver thread below. The walking is not very bad, but some of the 'youngsters' who are on their first trip through, thought they would expire. We left Dyea at 10 a. m. and reached Sheep Camp at 7:30. Myself and Chris. Cornell were the only members of the party who had their baggage, etc., packed right through. The others had their goods taken to the summit, intending to pack it the rest of the way themselves; they had only reached three miles this side of the summit and are looking for Indians to carry it on. The Selkirk boys had their taken to Sheep Camp, and were also compelled to call in the Indians to assist them the balance of the way. We reached here first and are preparing to build our boats. Others are expected in to-morrow. We remained all day at Sheep Camp on account of rain, and left at 1:30 a. m. next day with our Indians, twenty in number, including boys and squaws. The do all the travelling they can at night, as the days are hot and the snow gets very soft in the afternoon. After leaving Sheep Camp we began to reach a few of the 'high spots,' right up in the clouds. For one thousand feet we had to stick our toes in for all we were worth, and take steps from four to six inches. I will not undertake to say how deep the snow is. When the top was reached the descent was begun, and if one lost his footing he was liable to go several hundred feet before recovering his equilibrium. There is six miles of this snow travelling. It is a hard-looking path. The last six miles are not so bad, but as rough as one wants. If you see anyone intending to come to the Yukon by this route tell them if they cannot pay for transportation on the portage, don't come. Some men have been on the road three weeks and are not half way yet. Men who have never done this sort of work before do not know what they are undertaking. Some of our boys were very confident of getting over themselves, but when they got out on the trail for a while a child could play with them.

In conclusion the writer states that there is a tent town at Lake Linderman and that timber for building a boat was quite convenient. It was their intention to begin work the next day, and they expected to have the boats built within a week. Linderman is described as a pretty spot, with flowers, etc. The Indians are a fine lot of workers, and nearly all talk good English.

FRIENDLY FEELING.

Commenting on the banquet of the American society in London the Daily News says: "It is a pleasant reflection that some of the most eloquent, generous and genial references yet made during the jubilee festivities have emanated from Americans."

In another exchange we read: "Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 2.—The common council last night, at a special meeting, passed a resolution declaring the franchise of the Gorge road null and void, and giving them thirty days to remove their tracks from the streets, unless in that time the railroad discharged every Canadian employed on the road. The street superintendent was instructed to remove the tracks and wires of the road if the company did not in the time specified."

Considering the somewhat conflicting character of the two articles quoted above, together with the other evidences of a 'friendly feeling' evinced by our cousins across the line in constructing prohibitory tariffs and other kindred abominations, comment becomes almost unnecessary.

Friendly feeling is very nice and our American cousin no doubt has a very large amount of it, but it is hoped that he will find some better way of giving expression to it than by passing alien labor laws, and tariff bills and preparing offensive despatches to Great Britain in regard to the Behring sea dispute with which innocent recreation his congress has been passing the time while their envoys to the jubilee in London have been assuring the people of England of the overwhelming and undying friendship that burns in every American's breast for their erstwhile mother country and their Canadian cousins across the line.

TROUBLE IN INDIA.

A despatch from Calcutta, India, dated the 7th instant, states that all sections of the community are in a state of anxious expectancy over developments of the early future. It is rumored that all the mill hands at Hoogly have struck work and are preparing to march 8,000 strong to reinforce the rioters here. The government has ordered the militia to intercept them. Mohammedans at Garden Reach, in the suburbs of Calcutta, and a fashionable place for Europeans, are showing signs of dangerous restlessness and the government has stationed strong guards at all the bridges leading to that quarter.

TO REFORM THE SENATE.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Mail & Empire writes to his paper that the proposed plan of the government to reform the senate is to constitute the several legislatures of the different provinces into a general convention and pass an address to the Imperial parliament asking not for abolition, but for reforming the senate on a democratic basis.

This change would require an election of senators either by the people or by the provincial legislatures.

ANGUS RIDGE

The attendance of the Battle River school for June was 20.

The public examinations in the Battle River school were held on Wednesday afternoon. Ten visitors, consisting of trustees Squire Shantz and John Downswell, Mr. Wilson, sec-treas., and seven others, were present. At the close of the examination a few addresses were given in which all expressed themselves pleased at the rapid progress the children are making in their studies. There were 25 pupils present at the examination.

Miss Lydia Shantz has returned from Banff. Her many friends are pleased to see her return home.

Squire Shantz was in attendance at the court in Wetaskiwin on Saturday, July 3rd.

WETASKIWIN.

Our sports came off yesterday and were a great success. There was a very large attendance computed at about 700. Unfortunately a heavy rain storm at 3:30 caused a break in the proceedings until after five when the racing was resumed and carried to a finish. A well attended ball was held in the school house at night. About 200 being present and all had a good time, dancing being continued until about 4 a.m. Supper was laid at the Queen's at 12 o'clock. Dr. Lander and Geo. West, both of Innisfail, brought up horses for the races. After the sports the Indians enlivened the town for some time with their usual music and dancing. About 10 p.m. a brilliant display of fireworks was made by Mr. Boyce at the Driland hotel and nine large and beautiful balloons were sent up. The whole day proceedings were carried through without a single accident of any moment which is somewhat surprising considering the reckless riding of many half-breeds and white visitors. The police boys did their utmost to preserve order and are worthy of all praise for their efforts, but a force of only two constables is quite inadequate to deal with a holiday crowd composed of all nationalities and numbering over 700.

There is some talk of forming an agricultural association here, which would be a real benefit to the town and country.

The continuous showers are having the usual effect on the crops, which are looking remarkably well and growing luxuriantly, with favorable weather. This should be a record year in this district.

Saskatoons and raspberries are said to be plentiful and strawberries a fair crop.

Mr. Barvis insurance agent, Calgary, is in town.

John Ambler came up from Calgary to take in the sports. Ed. McBride also came up on a business trip.

The Gavel combination gave a successful entertainment in the school house on Tuesday evening and repeated the performance on Wednesday at the Driland hotel previous to the ball.

July 8th.

HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY'S MEETING.

London, July 6th.—A general meeting of the Hudson's Bay Company was held at the city Terminus hotel, this city, to-day, when a report from the governor and committee of the company was laid before the shareholders. The report was as follows:

"The governor and committee beg to submit to the proprietors the annual accounts, which show a profit of £50,917 7s 6d, to which is to be added the sum of £26,082 4s 7d brought forward from last year, making a total of £86,999 12s 1d, and it is recommended that a dividend of thirteen shillings per share be paid for the year ending 31st May, 1897, leaving a balance to be carried forward of £21,999 12s 1d.

"The company's importations during the last season were satisfactory in quantity as compared with those of previous years, but mainly in consequence of a mild winter, and the absence of any important demand from America, prices of furs at the company's January and March sales showed a general decline on the sales of 1896. It is, however, gratifying to your board to announce that the profit is on the whole not disappointing.

The land account for interests, rents, etc., shows that the receipts are a little better than last year being £21,961 in 1896-'97 as against £21,520 in 1895-'96. There is a reduction in taxes of £967, and a sum of £1,448 was paid by the company to the government on the company's proportion of charges for surveys of land.

"Sales of land are slightly better; those of farm lands being 10,784 acres for $33,277 (averaging $4.94 per acre), as compared with 9,299 acres for $52,410 (averaging $5.63 per acre), and of town lots $36,480, as against $32,685 in 1895-'96.

"The decrease in the average price realized for farm land arises from a shrinkage in values, which the board trust is only of a temporary nature, the reviving prosperity of the country and increased immigration warranting this assumption."

Collingwood Schreiber, deputy minister of railways and canals, leaves this week for inspection of all the government canal works.

DEADLY GAS NEAR REGINA.

Three men R. H. Moore, C. W. Beattie and Jas. Carroll were suffocated in a well near Regina on the 3rd. The well was sixty feet deep and had not been worked at for a week, being covered in the meantime. On Saturday Moore went down to resume operations, but when near the bottom fell off the rope. Beattie ran for help and was in turn lowered in the well by Andrew Moore, a cousin of the first victim. When thirty feet down Moore heard a choking sound and a thud as Beattie fell to the bottom. Moore then ran for more help and lowered Jos. Carroll down to rescue the others. When 20 feet down Carroll called to be pulled up as he was choking. He was brought up within 12 feet of the top when he too was overcome and fell to the bottom. Assistance was then procured and with the aid of grappling hooks the bodies were brought to the top. The deaths were caused by suffocation from some deadly gas which had accumulated in the well.

By-Law No. 141.

A By-Law respecting the cost of certain local improvements made during the current year, whereas, under and in pursuance of the provisions of "The Municipal Ordinance," Part 7, Section 3, a petition duly signed, was presented to the Municipal Council of the Municipality of the Town of Edmonton, asking that there be made as a local improvement, a plank sidewalk, six feet wide, with the usual crossings, upon the east side of Namayo Avenue, one of the public streets of the Municipality, from the south-west corner of Lot 32 in Block 3 in River Lot 15 in Edmonton, to the north-west corner of Lot 31, in Block 32, in the same River Lot.

And whereas, the said local improvement has been made, the expenditure therefor having been met by means of temporary advances or loans effected in pursuance of "The Municipal Ordinance," Part 7, Section 3, sub-section (6), And whereas, in order to provide means for the repaying of the said temporary advances or loans, it is now necessary to ascertain what portion, if any, of the cost of the said local improvement, should be borne by the Municipality at large, and what is the portion of the cost of the said local improvement to be provided for by way of special frontage assessment of the cost or portion of the cost of the said local improvement upon the lots fronting on the street or place whereon, or wherein the said local improvement has been made, and for the levying of such cost or portion thereof, by a special rate upon such lands, and for regulating the time or times, and manner in which the rates for the said local improvement are to be paid.

Therefore, the Mayor and Council of the Municipality of the Town of Edmonton, in council assembled, enact as follows:

1. The Standing Committee of the Council on Public Works shall forthwith consider the said petition, and the resolutions of the Council passed in respect thereof, and the work actually done in pursuance thereof, and the accounts of the expenditures made therefor, and all the other matters necessary to enable the said committee to make a report to the Council which shall set forth and certify:

(a) The probable lifetime of the said improvement.

(b) The actual cost of the said improvement.

(c) The portion (if any) of the cost to be borne by the Municipality at large.

(d) The portion of the cost to be provided by special frontage assessment.

(e) The frontage of the property upon which the special frontage assessment is to be levied, stated in lineal feet.

(f) The rates of special frontage assessment per foot frontage.

(g) The amount chargeable to each lot or parcel of land assessed according to the rate per foot frontage.

(h) The value of the land chargeable with the special frontage rate (exclusive of all improvements thereon).

2. The Council shall forthwith consider the said report and adopt the same, with such amendments, if any, as they shall deem proper, and thereupon, the several properties affected are hereby declared to be assessed, and the assessor of the Municipality is hereby directed to assess the same in accordance with the terms of the report so adopted.

3. The time and manner of payment of the amount of the assessment, shall be as follows: The amount of the assessment shall be payable in such number of equal consecutive annual payments as shall correspond with the number of years which shall have been certified to be the probable lifetime of the improvement, together with a further equal annual sum, such that the total annual payment shall be sufficient to cover the annual interest on the principal, at the rate of six per cent., payable half yearly, and to form a sinking fund for the payment of the principal, based on a calculation of interest being received thereat at the rate of five per cent. yearly.

4. As soon as the Council shall have appointed a time and place when and where the Council will sit as a Court of Revision for the confirmation of the special frontage assessment so made (which the Council shall forthwith do), the assessor of the Municipality shall give notice to all parties interested, in pursuance of the Municipal Ordinance, Part 7, Section 10, which notice may be in the form or to the effect of Schedule A. to this By-Law.

Done and passed in Council this 30th day of June, A.D. 1897.

OLDS.

This district has been and is yet being well soaked—with rain water of course—and from indications there seems to be no prospect of a let up. The great amount of water will render some of the hay meadows unfit for cutting and is retarding farm work generally.

H. L. Briggs, who is in Nebraska working up another Alberta delegation, expects to leave that State on the 15th inst., for the Winnipeg exhibition and then for Olds. Among the party heading for this climate is Mrs. H. L. Briggs, one who Mr. Briggs is satisfied "will like the country" and prove a true help-mate for him on East Slope Ranch. Mr. Briggs and wife will receive a hearty welcome from their Alberta friends.

The Rosebud creamery management is paying 12c cash every month to its patrons for butter. The output is in advance of that of last year.

Olds is jogging along this (license) year without a licensed hotel, and people seem just as sober as before. Legitimate business must be improved when less money is being spent for worse than nothing.

The base ball "accumulation" of this place crossed bats on Dominion day with Innisfail—and to their sorrow. The game was played on the Innisfail grounds and resulted in Olds being scooped, the score being 12 to 18 runs in favor of our neighbor boys.

One of our estimable young men, Ollis Lyman, has departed for Trout Lake City, B. C., where he will join his father and brother in the carpenter work.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

Ottawa, July 5.—If Lord Glenoe is not to continue as Canadian high commissioner in London. It is learned here that a very likely choice for his successor is the Hon. R. R. Dobbell, of Quebec, minister without portfolio. Rumor has stated again and again that Sir Richard Cartwright might take the position, but it scarcely seems probable that he can be spared from Premier Laurier's government.

Sir Richard Cartwright, acting premier, is to be back to the capital tomorrow and some important cabinet business will be put through before several of the ministers enjoy a vacation.

The story goes that Sir Charles Tupper may not return from his present trip to London; that he has tried of a divided support and prefers to spend the remainder of his days in the comfort he has justly earned by his exertions.

The liberals threaten a crusade against the senate. They allege that they can disqualify nearly twenty members of the upper house who do not possess the necessary $4,000 in real estate, clear of encumbrance.

A formal order-in-council has been passed, admitting New South Wales to the benefit of the reciprocal tariff, the minister of customs having reported that the tariff of the sister colony is favorable to Canada.

Constantinople, July 6.—Contrary to expectations, the decision of the council of ministers was not favorable to the demands of the ambassadors, relative to the Turkish frontier. The situation therefore is regarded as being very strained. The Turkish reply is virtually a rupture of negotiations and the powers must make concessions or adopt measures to enforce their decisions.

POLICE COURT.

A case of contravention of the bridge ordinance in driving at a trot over the bridge at St. Albert came up before G. W. Gairdner, J. P. at St. Albert on Wednesday last. The offender was fined 50 cents and costs, in all $4.80.

Several other cases of drunk and disorderly were disposed of at the town hall here on Friday and Saturday.

An Indian was arrested on the South side on Saturday on a charge of horse stealing. The crime was supposed to have taken place at Wetaskiwin and the Indian was sent down there yesterday, in charge of Const. Keys and Bullock, for a preliminary hearing on the charge.

A PROSPECTOR'S TRIP.

Jos. Brewster who left Edmonton over two months ago on an extended prospecting tour on the rivers south of Calgary and Macleod, returned yesterday afternoon and starts tomorrow for the north, where he will prospect and mine on the Athabasca until winter sets in. Mr. Brewster had an interesting and in some places decidedly unpleasant trip, as on the return journey the absence of many of the traffic bridges across the rivers, which were swollen by the floods, made the crossings very difficult and dangerous. At High River, thirty-eight miles from Calgary, he had to haul his wagon to the high railway bridge and unhitch his team and with the assistance of an Indian haul it across by hand over the ties and then sent his horses over the cut bank into the river below and trust to their being able to swim across, which they fortunately were able to do.

Mr. Brewster's first prospect was made on Lee's Creek near the Mormon settlement of Cardston on the boundary line, where he re-prospected placer diggings that had been first prospected 30 years ago and deserted by the miners because they could not make more than $6 a day, which at that time would not pay them. Though he travelled the creek to the foothills of the Rockies no trace of pay dirt could be found and the prospect was decidedly unsatisfactory. Mr. Brewster has the greatest praise for the Mormon settlers at Cardston who treated him with every kindness, even placing at his disposal a milch cow which was herded in the Mormon herd every day and brought to his camp at night. Cardston is a splendidly managed town. It has its own bank and a theatrical company, and though the buildings as a rule are not large, some very good stone ones are being built. No bigamy is practised or allowed among its inhabitants.

From Cardston Mr. Brewster prospected the St. Mary river where he found traces of gold but not in paying quantities, and from there he went on to the Piegian reserve which is being surveyed preparatory to being opened up for settlement and location of mining claims. "Here," Mr. Brewster says, "is a little El Dorado." There is one copper vein which he prospected which was 16 feet wide and assayed $126 to the ton, one of the richest seams ever found. A large number of the monied men of Montana are interested in the development of these claims and are prepared to invest a large sum of money for that purpose as soon as the land will be thrown open for the entry of settlement and development.

Mr. Brewster also stated that during his trip he met a number of pilgrims returning from the Kootenay and the accounts they gave of it were, to say the least, not attractive. All told the one story, that there were twelve men for every job in the towns there, and no man unless he had money to risk in an investment could hope to better his condition there. This state of affairs will of course be temporarily improved during the construction of the Crow's Nest road.

The C. P. R. workshops on the western division are to be removed from Donald, part going to Revelstoke and the remainder to Golden. It is also understood that the C. P. R. shops at Cammore will be moved east to Calgary.

There is to be a slump in the price of bicycles, and as a match to it the Brooklyn Eagle is calling for a slump in the price of typewriters. They cost from $12 to $17 to manufacture, and sell for $100. They are the greatest instance of public thieving of the day.

The Commercial in discussing the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass road says: The whole country will be drawn from in the purchase of supplies, and the expenditure in this connection will be great. In the first hundred miles of road it is estimated that from eight to ten million feet of lumber will be used, and the supply will be drawn from the British Columbia mills.

There is no use

putting it off any longer as there will be nothing gained by it. If you need any goods of any description now is the time to buy them, and the only question to consider is, where are you going to buy them, where can you do the best and be sure of getting the best value for your money...

This is both a wise and important matter to consider whether times are good or bad. In the opinion of a large number of the most prosperous people in the country, who are the shrewdest and most careful of buyers, McDougall's is the place the year round, in any kind of times, and no matter what is the size of your purse. No purchasers too small or none too large. One and all receive the very best of values, and they all come back for more.

The stock is now large and complete in all lines.
